On the ground floor the entrance vestibule has good coat hanging space. The airy sitting room with oak flooring opens up into the kitchen/breakfast room providing a fantastic open-plan feel. The sitting room has glazed sliding doors that provide wonderful light and a view over the garden. As well as a newly fitted shower room on the ground floor, there are two double bedrooms, which could be used as reception rooms.

Upstairs there are a further two bedrooms with considerable storage space under the eaves, and a family bathroom.

Outside
The large rear garden faces in a south-easterly direction; there is a sun terrace immediately adjacent to the house and another two further down the garden capturing afternoon sun and providing dining and entertaining areas. The remainder of the garden has a central lawn bordered by beds, which are stocked with interesting plants including many azaleas, rhododendrons and ornamental trees.
