On this level, there is a second spacious fitted kitchen/dining room, which leads to a plant room at the rear, a second lounge, and a bedroom, along with a downstairs shower room and an additional pantry storage cupboard. This layout offers a further self-contained living space.

Stairs rise from the main hallway to a split landing, where the principal bedroom is located. This generous room includes an ensuite bathroom, dual walk-in wardrobes, and outstanding views. Additionally, a door leads to a set of wooden stairs providing easy access to the attic, which houses the air purifying system. Notably, for ease of housekeeping, all rooms are fitted with points linked to a central vacuum system.

At the front of the property, a gravel driveway, bordered by traditional saddle stones, offers ample parking space and an area of lawn. The driveway continues past the side of the house, leading to a double garage with electric doors and loft storage above. A further outside workshop, currently used as a workspace, includes a plumbed-in WC and offers potential for alternative uses.

The garden is split into two levels, predominantly laid to lawn and enclosed by wooden panel fencing and hedging. An impressive feature of the garden is a wooden gazebo, creating an inviting space for alfresco dining.

This home offers flexible accommodation, ideal for multigenerational living, and is designed with energy efficiency in mind. Additional benefits include a solar panel system with a 45 kWh of battery storage, an air source heating system, and an electric car charging point.
