Outside

The property is approached through double timber gates with a beautiful mature Eucalyptus tree. To the right of the entrance to the driveway is a large double garage, the roof on this has been replaced in recent years and is well insulated. One section of the garage is fitted out as a workshop. The garage has a remote controlled roller door and power and light connected. There are solar PV panels on the garage roof. An inner door then leads through to the workshop, whilst at the rear, there is an attached lean-to greenhouse with water connected.

The drive leads into an extensive yard where there is ample parking and turning space for several vehicles. Caravans or even a Boat. To the right of the yard is the Atcost barn, which is 60'0 x 28'0, a very useful building, currently providing storage, and housing three timber stables and a tractor shed. Behind the atcost is an enclosed area that would have been part of the original farmyard, this now provides a sheltered and private area for storage and further parking. To the left of the yard is a large two story barn approximately 36'0 x 18'0, which is an incredibly useful barn with potential for a variety of uses (subject to any necessary planning permissions), currently the lower floor is divided into various sections with useful storage, and a further workshop. The first floor is open plan and runs the length of the barn which is ideal for a studio or an exceptionally large home office, this area has electricity, heating, and water attached. The area also enjoys delightful vistas over the gardens and grounds.

It is understood that when the gardens have been opened to the public in the past, part of this building and courtyard has been used to serve cream teas. There is also a useful outside 'gardeners' WC with a water heater.

The formal gardens surrounding the property are delightful and have been planted to create interest all year round with many specimen trees and plants. There is a good sized wildlife pond, woodland, areas of sweeping lawn and areas of meadow. Tucked away towards the wooded area is a large purpose built BBQ Lodge which can seat up to 25 people with paved and gravel seating area outside.

Gardens and Grounds

The gardens and grounds of this well presented residence are a particular feature, having been developed by former owners, and maintained by the existing owners. The gardens have been arranged to blend into the surrounding landscape, exemplified by the 'borrowed view' of a scenic hill through a circular frame set in a boundary hedge. This view has featured as a cover on the RHS 'The Garden' magazine and other publications. The collection of unusual trees and shrubs is complemented by largely native planting in the various garden areas, providing interest and enjoyment all year round.

In total, there is approximately 14 acres at Kerscott House, 2.8 acres of which comprises a paddock at the north of the property. To the western boundary there are landscaped woodlands, with a water meadow and spring fed ponds. The remainder of the gardens and grounds have been designed to create idyllic vistas across the grounds and to encourage wildlife. Surrounding the property are more formal gardens, which enjoy seclusion and complete privacy. The BBQ Lodge is the perfect place for alfresco dining all year round. There is also an orchard with a superb range of apple trees, pear trees, damson, plum and greengage, mazzards, a medlar, a mulberry tree and gooseberry bushes. Throughout the garden there are many different seating areas to sit and enjoy the fabulous surroundings.
